Lasell College
1851- 2001

2001 marks the 150th birthday of Lasell College.
We have used the pages of this book to depict the past and the present here at Lasell.
In the past three years, this institution has become co-educational,
Expanded it's population and has gone through several
Structural changes including the addition of two new Residents Halls,
The renovation of the Dining Hall as well as Winslow Hall.
Also, we have added the Lasell Village, a retirement community
On campus.

Brownstones

With the addition of the new Suites on campus, Van Winkle and McClelland became heavily traveled buildings. Many changes were made in the Brownstone buildings this year. The biggest changes were made in the Residential Life staff. At the end of first semester, Van Winkle had lost RA Jami Fowler who moved to Mott and Pickard and Director of Residential Life Christa Vanciocco. Spence Hall also lost their RA Jenn Deeble who became a resident in Van Winkle. At the beginning of second semester Spence had acquired Mike Connor as ther RA and Dahianna Doris and Anna Hoxie were a nice addition to Van Winkle. More changes are in store for the Brownstones with the loss of CES in McClelland!

Graduation

Lasell Commencement 2001

Former Texas Gov. Ann Richards Gives 118 Graduates at Lasell College Commencement Witty Words of Wisdom and Instructions for Life

"I remember my graduation speaker," Former Governor Ann Richards told the more than 1600 people gathered at the sesquicentennial commencement of Lasell College. "I don't remember his name of course. I only remember that I could not wait until he was finished. I just wanted to take the paper," she said, referring to her diploma, "and get a ride to the party."

No one at the Lasell College commencement on Sunday, May 20th, on Taylor Field, is likely to forget her name, however, or the sage advice Governor Richards offered to the 118 graduates of the four-year, coeducational professionally oriented liberal arts college in Newton which is celebrating its 150th anniversary.

In a memorable commencement speech delivered in her easy Texas drawl, Governor Richards was witty, wise, and heartfelt as she offered valuable advice for the future to her rapt audience of students, family and friends. "I don't know if God is listening, but I hear your prayers for brevity," she told the audience, before offering up a vivid verbal road map to a fulfilling life. "Your family and I want you to believe that your life is going to be wonderful," she said. "That's part of our job description as parents and grandparents. We're so proud of you today and we want you to have everything you want and then we want you to have even more. But the truth is that living is a compli-ated business and few of us are fortunate nough to get the things we want when we vant them. Profound disappointments, frus- rations, sorrow — they're all a part of the existence inside a human skin. So on behalf of your family and this institution, I want to ell you that if you look up in 10 years and ind that you have not made your first mil- ion, or bought your first mansion, or married he smartest and best looking thing in your rowd; if you have not produced the required .8 grandchildren — a girl and at least eight- enths of a boy — or gotten them into the best schools, balanced your family and career, saved the world in your spare time; if ou have not done all of that, or any of those hings, you are not a failure and we will still ove you."

Governor Richards urged her audience to "tend to your home, listen to your heart, nurture your mind, have the courage to trust yourself and like yourself. My wish is that you live into being a unique person and find that person that is truly you and that you defy the haunting restrictions of self-doubt."

Wryly, she advised graduates to "never turn down a new experience unless you know it is seriously illegal or life threatening. There's always a risk, but the greater risk lies in missing half of your life if you don't try." She also told graduates not to live for tomorrow … "it'll never get here."

Following a rousing standing ovation for her, Governor Richards was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Human Letters from Lasell College by Lasell President Thomas E.J. de Witt, Ph.D.

Firmly bound by bonds unbroken
Love for old Lasell
Take we now a pledge outspoken
E'er to guard her well.

Alma Mater, Fidelitas!
Pledge, all, for Loyalty!
Sing we now before we part,
We'll ever faithful be.

Bright school days are quickly past;
Enjoy them while they may,
Mem'ries still shall them outlast,
When we are far away.

Alma Mater, Fidelitas!
Pledge, all, for Loyalty!
Sing we now before we part,
We'll ever faithful be.

Village Celebrates First Year

Lasell Village is designed on the scale of a small New England neighborhood — yet it has the cultural, recreational, and educational resources one would expect from a large city. Lasell Village is designed for vibrant living, offering a full complement of learning, wellness, and general recreation. As a nonprofit continuing care retirement community (CCRC), Lasell Village combines the security of a home with the peace of mind of comprehensive long-time health care options.

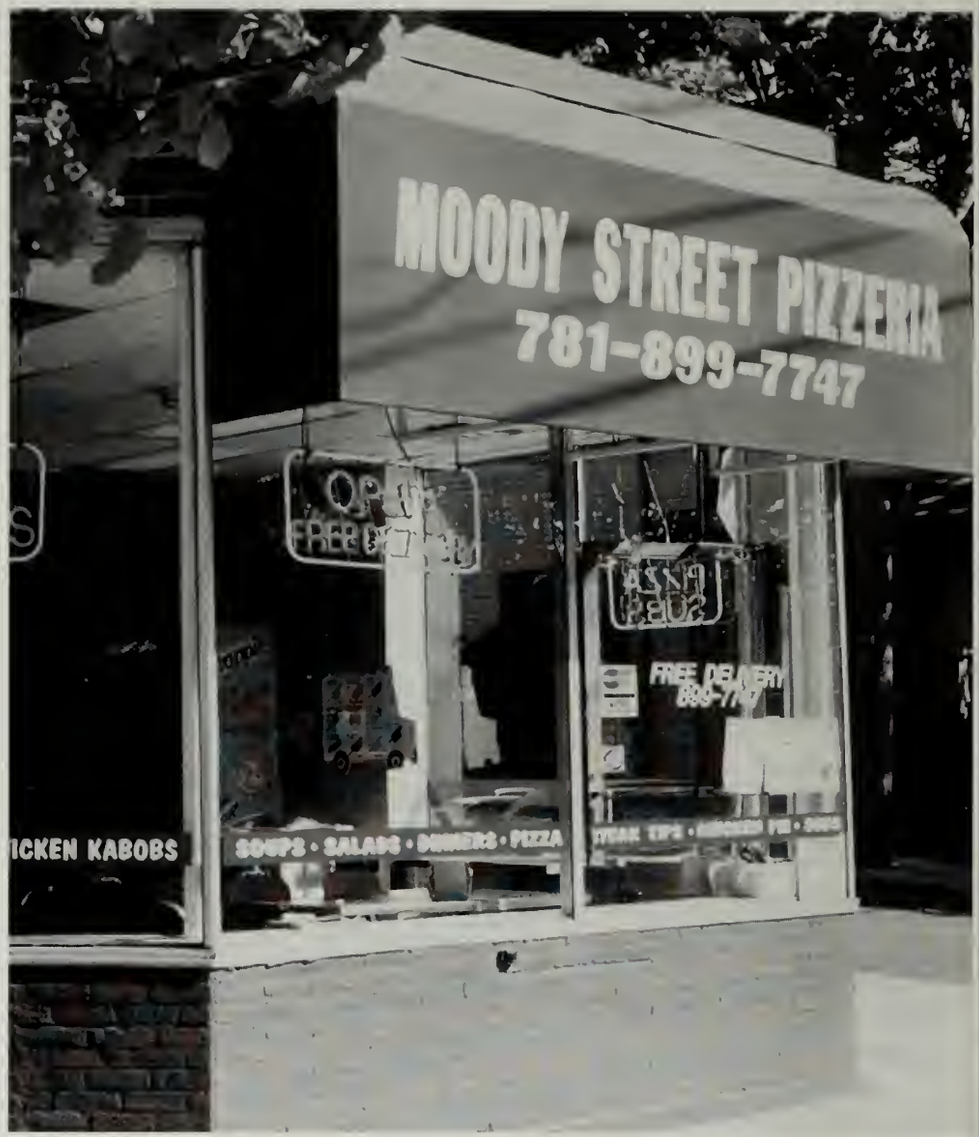
Local Pop Culture



While classes, studying, and extra-curricular activities take up most of students' time, there is always time for local food! Late night drives to Tiki House and deliveries from Alexi at Moody Street Pizzeria are part of the norm for Lasell students!

Good-bye, and Keep Cold

This saying good-bye on the edge of the dark
And cold to an orchard so young in the bark
Reminds me of all that can happen to harm
An orchard away at the end of the farm
All winter, cut off by a hill from the house.
I don't want it girdled by rabbit and mouse,
I don't want it dreamily nibbled for browse
By deer, and I don't want it budded by grouse.
(If certain it wouldn't be idle to call
I'd summon grouse, rabbit, and deer to the wall
And warn them away with a stick for a gun.)
I don't want it stirred by the heat of the sun.
(We made it secure against being, I hope,
By setting it out on a northerly slope.)
No orchard's the worse for the wintriest storm;
But one thing about it, it mustn't get warm.
"How often already you've had to be told,
Keep cold, young orchard. Good-bye and keep cold.
Dread fifty above more than fifty below."
I have to be gone for a season or so.
My business awhile is with different trees,
Less carefully nourished, less fruitful than these,
And such as is done to their wood with an axe —
Maples and birches and tamaracks.
I wish I could promise to lie in the night
And think of an orchard's arboreal plight
When slowly (and nobody comes with a light)
Its heart sinks lower under the sod.
But something has to be left to God.
— Robert Frost
